Jacob Boyd is a singer/ songwriter from Brenham, Texas and has recently returned to the area after spending 11 years in Nashville where he went to chase the music dream. Fortunately, he met his wife and started a small business that grew to be quite large and was purchased from him in December of 2019. He decided to return to his hometown where he got serious again playing and writing music. Jacob leans towards the 80s and 90s era of country. His originals have been described as James Taylor Melody's put to country lyrics. In March of 2022, Jacob recorded debut EP, New Mexico Stars, at Rosewood Studios. A five-track project consisting of four originals written by Jacob, and one cover.

He can cover a crowd for 2-3 hours with short breaks allowing the dancers to dance and enjoy the lyrics of a song due to his strong vocals and 20 years of performing in front of live crowds.

His set will be 85% covers and 15% originals that are mixed in throughout the set.

He can provide sound and an engineer to set up and break down to keep the staff at venue doing their jobs instead of having to worry about the paid entertainment.

Jacob has opened for artists such as:

- John Anderson
- Steve Wariner
- Stoney LaRue
- John Conlee
- Jason Allen
- Jody Booth
- Josh Ward
- Jake Bush
- Jake Worthington
- Tyler Farr
- The Wilder Blue
- Sundance Head
- Glen Templeton
- The Reeves Brothers

Jacob has spent the better half of 2022 touring and performing with Jake Worthington as his lead and rhythmic guitarist, as well as back-up vocals/ harmonies. During his time with Worthington, the band opened for the likes of:

- Hank Williams Jr.
- Flatland Cavalry
- Morgan Wallen
